

Mayor John Painter Biography

Mayor John Painter was born and raised in Gulfport, MS. He met his wife Deborah while visiting family in Las Vegas prior to attending BYU for school.

Mayor Painter graduated from BYU in 2006 with a MS in physics and accepted a job with IM Flash Technologies as a semiconductor engineer. After an assignment in Manassas, VA with Micron, John, Deborah and their young daughter Eleni, moved into their new home in Friday's Station, Eagle Mountain. For over a decade he has been actively involved with his community through volunteer activities like Jr Jazz coach, serving as state delegate and HOA delegate.

After completing an MBA from the University of Utah, Mayor Painter served a full term on the City Council Jan. 2010- Dec. 2013. John and Deborah now have three children, one girl and two boys aged 13, 9 and 4 respectively.

Mayor Painter is proud to call Eagle Mountain his home. He hopes to continue to see the city mature and grow in a healthy and methodical way that preserves the beauty of Eagle Mountain and provides a positive environment for families.
