

Eagle Mountain City and Eagle Mountain Nature and Wildlife Alliance
Wildlife and Nature Education (WANE)
2024 schedule and volunteer opportunities

21 February—Raptors 101, what species do we have in Cedar Valley, when are they here, how can we ID them. @City Hall Todd Black speaker

15 March—eagle platform nest on Turtle Hill/GlenMar. We could use 3-5 volunteers to build and install an raptor platform nest. Contact tblack@emcity.org or bettina@emwildlife.org to sign up.

20 March—How to Make a Bird Feeder, come join us in making inexpensive, easy homemade bird feeders. @City Hall Alliance in charge

13 April—hanging songbird nest boxes on the new wildlife fence. We could use 8-10 volunteers to attach and install bird nest boxes throughout the city. Contact tblack@emcity.org or bettina@emwildlife.org to sign up.

17 April—iNaturalist training in preparation for the City Nature Challenge see <https://nhmu.utah.edu/citizen-science/citizen-science/challenge> @City Hall, Chad Welch speaker.

27 April—City Nature Challenge field tour of flora and fauna hot spots in the city. Join Todd Black as he takes you on a guided wildlife field tour to the city sewer ponds and other hot spots in the city to record and document wild things. @City Public Works Building.

11 May—shrub/forb planting project with the City. We could use 8-10 volunteers to plant shrubs and forbs throughout the city. Contact tblack@emcity.org or bettina@emwildlife.org to sign up.

15 May—Pollinator project, more milkweed planting. @City Hall speaker TBD

19 June—Eagle Mountain City natural history and petroglyphs. @City Hall speaker TBD

17 July—creepy crawlies that only come out at night (scorpion and other critter hunt). @City Hall speaker Dana Smith

28 August—wildlife photography 101, ethics, how to, equipment etc. @City Hall Alliance to lead discussion.

18 September—Star gazing 101--@xx Park, UVU folks to lead discussion. Start time 930PM.

16 October—trees, shrubs, forbs and grasses planting 101—what to plant and where in Eagle Mountain. @City Hall—new arborist to lead discussion.